New Horizons 2000

Yet all experience is an arch where thro'
Gleams that untravelled world whose margin fades
For ever and for ever when I move.

(from "Ulysses"* by Alfred Lord Tennyson)

The quotation with which I preface my remarks for this year's yearbook contains an interesting image. Experience is likened to an arch through which the horizon can be glimpsed: as is the case with all horizons, our journey does not bring it any nearer though new and interesting things appear in the far distance and move towards us. I believe that this image characterizes the past school year for each one of us. We have all looked into the distance and walked, some rather more purposefully than others, through the arch of experience towards a distant horizon. Our travels through the year have brought us new and intriguing experiences but the horizon is still far distant. Of course, the intention within Tennyson's poem is to suggest that it is not the reaching of the horizon that is the point. It is the journey that gives everything its meaning.

Once again, I have had the enormous pleasure and satisfaction of seeing so many young people making progress and contributing to the rich life of this school. Some have left us now to go on to still further experiences and we shall follow their fortunes in the future. We said farewell to a number of staff this year: all have moved on to new beginnings whether this be in retirement, in new schools, in entirely new careers or into a life centered around their families. This book contains snapshots of moments in time and it will remain unchanged for us all, but everyone pictured here will be making new beginnings and will be looking to yet far distant horizons as another year in the life of our school has its beginning.

Tennyson's poem has a resounding conclusion

Come, my friends
'Tis not too late to seek a newer world
Push off, and sitting well in order smite
The sounding furrows; for my purpose holds
To sail beyond the sunset, and the baths of all the western stars ...

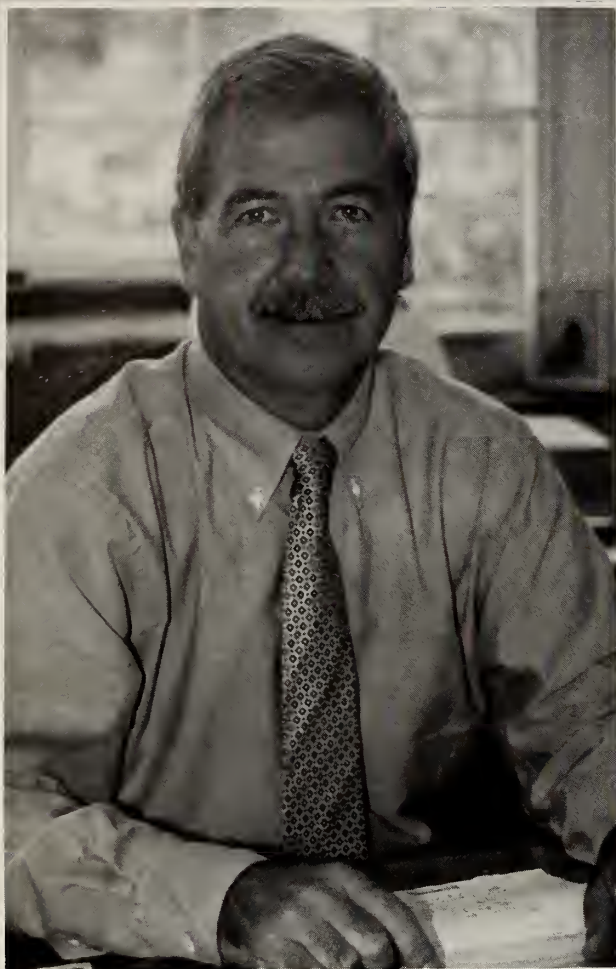

I hope that, like me, you look forward to another journey!

From The Deputy Head:

As with all yearbooks, you will note that the pages which follow are filled with photographs and writings illustrating, quite rightly, the many achievements of students in all sections of the school during the prior year. When looking back, we at Saltus are more aware and, justifiably, more proud than many schools of what has gone before, of our heritage and of our traditions which must never be forgotten nor allowed to die. As an historian, I naturally place great value in the past, but as an educator I am equally aware that we must not be shackled by it. John F. Kennedy was surely correct when he wrote that those who look only to the past or the present are certain to miss the future. "The horizon", according to an old prayer, "is nothing save the limit of our sight." Imagine the world we would now inhabit if it were not for those men and women who refused to be limited by what they could actually see, who had the courage and the conviction in what they believed to look beyond the immediate horizon. How appropriate therefore that this yearbook, the first of the new millennium, has adopted the theme 'New Horizons'. It is an opportune time not only to reflect upon where we have been and where we now are, but also to consider where we wish to go. Schools are living places constantly adapting and developing to meet the needs of their students and the demands of society. Saltus, whilst retaining the best of the past, must always be prepared to face the many challenges of the future. By the time you read this, final preparations will be well underway for the re-structuring of the school to create an enhanced J7/S1 year. This will have the additional advantage-still some time down the road-of allowing our students to complete GCSE studies one year earlier than at present, thereby providing them with an even more beneficial two-year university/college preparatory programme. Several of the older classrooms at Cavendish will have been renovated, a modern library will have been constructed in the Junior School, the new Senior Art Room will be near completion, and the laptop initiative will have been extended to yet one more year. Adapting and developing pushing back the boundaries still further, seeking new horizons ... exciting times indeed for all of us privileged to be associated with the school.

Malcolm Durrant
Deputy Headmaster.

Our New Classroom

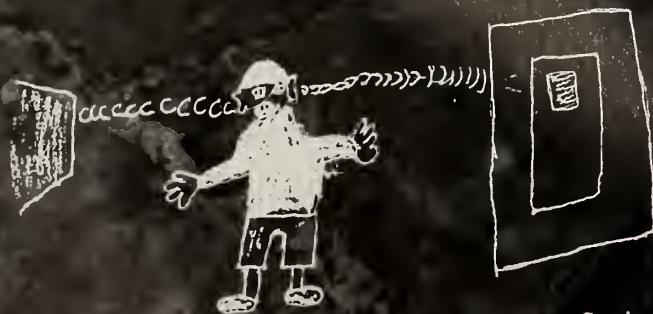

When I walked into our new classroom I felt like I was in a whole new school. I couldn't even find the things like the team points or the calendar. I was amazed at the work the work men did. Now there are three ways to get to the Activity room, or should I say the Activity section.

In With The New!

Our New Classroom
I forgot we had a new classroom and I thought that I was in the wrong room! I liked everything, but my favourite was the trays. Today we got new colours and pencils. I liked the trays best because I used to forget things because they got mixed up with other stuff in my tray. I wished we didn't have to get a white board because I like the board we have now. I'm glad Mrs. Oatley put up the hundred minute clubs because I only had nine more days to be in the eight hundred minute club.

Pete I like my new classroom because I like where I sit. and it is nice and cool I really like my new classroom the carpeting is blue.

Our new classroom

When I first walked in I felt that I was in a whole new School. And it amazed me what they could do in 2 weeks. I like the board because it goes round and round like this (drawing of a circle). I like the door because you can see through it. And we have our own TV.

Music Report 2000

Music is said to be the universal language and I believe this is true as it touches all. I believe that in some way music has touched the hearts of all the students in the junior school. I am pleased to see the continued growth of the students and am extremely proud of all of their accomplishments. The choral side of musical ensembles is being developed with the addition of the J4 & 5 choir. The Junior School now offers Wind Band, Orchestra, Recorder Ensemble, and two Choirs-J4 & 5 Choir and J6 & 7 Choir.

Assemblies, rehearsals, concerts, music classes-all of these events are filled with the magical sounds of music. Some may argue and say that the recorders are squeaky and the strings are out of tune, but the look of delight that crosses over a player's face when they figure out a difficult section of music and the intense looks of concentration as students play together in an ensemble make the music beautiful and rewarding indeed. It has been a pleasure to hear and see how the various ensembles have grown throughout the course of this year!

The Christmas term was very hectic, with many extra rehearsals for "Surfin' Santa." This show was a great success with everyone enjoying songs written in the style of 60's surfing music as well as dances to Beach Boys' hits "I Get Around" and "Kokamo." The J4's really enjoyed watching the dress rehearsal and were so convinced by the J7's performance that when they saw "bad dude" on the field they gave him a hard time about trying to wreck Christmas. I should also mention the song "Share A Little Christmas" which had several members of staff misty eyed about the true meaning of Christmas.

The J6 & 7 Choir went to Trimingham's to sing for the many parents that crowded around the bed linens on the second floor. Only in Bermuda do we get to sing about snow when it is over 70 degrees! The J6 & 7 choir were very busy as they also participated in Carols For All, where they delighted their parents with the songs "Ding Dong Merrily On High" and "Walking In The Air." Many students participated in a Musical Christmas Concert which was held during the last week of classes. I believe that all who attended were extremely impressed by the dedication and talent of the students who were involved. The highlight of the concert occurred at the end of the program with a combined performance of "Deck the Halls" and "We Wish You a Merry Christmas" by the Wind Band, the Orchestra and both choirs.

The J5's paid tribute to the great composer Ludwig Van Beethoven in March with a presentation entitled, "The Binding Tale of Beethoven's Bookworms." The entire J5 yeargroup were very enthusiastic about a unit of study on Beethoven's life. The bookworms who shared facts about Beethoven's life, the bookworm chorus, Beethoven and his various friends all did a fine job at bringing this story to life.

Igor Stravinsky was very wise when he said, "The trouble with music appreciation in general is that people are taught to have too much respect for music. They should be taught to love it instead." It is my hope for the future of Saltus that the children continue to love music. With the continued support of a wonderful staff, parents and students this love for music will continue to grow.

Junior School Sports Report 1999-2000

INTERSCHOOL SPORTS

SWIMMING

Again this year we had some new talent come from Cavendish into the Junior School. In the Individual Swim Meet we had some great swims by all of those who took part. Some outstanding swims were seen from the following students:

U8 Catherine Jones	U9 Nea Pantry	U10 Michael Jones
Kaitlyn Miller	Bryan Rose	Katherine Moore
		Alison Holmes

In the Relay Meet our students again performed well. Our girl's team placed second behind B.H.S. as they did last year. Our boy's team also placed second behind Warwick Academy. This was the first time in many years that the boy's team did not take home the championship trophy. Overall we placed second behind Warwick Academy.

SOCCER

The soccer team placed 2nd in the league final behind West Pembroke. Stand outs during the season were Jack Bridges, Ezekial Stoneham, Lozendro Symonds and Kijaun Wilkinson. Special mention should go to Caty Luckhurst who was the only girl playing in the league. She certainly held her own and had the respect of all her teammates. Saltus was represented by Lozendro Symonds and Kijaun Wilkinson in the Primary All-Star game.

CROSS COUNTRY

Primary – We were extremely proud of our cross country runners again this year. We have many students who participate regularly in many of the B.T.F.A. races and they always represent the school well.

At the Interschool Cross Country Championships we again bettered our overall performance from last year and nearly every runner went home with either a medal or a ribbon. The age group results are as follows:

Boys U9 – 2 nd overall	Boys O9 – 4 th overall
Girls U9 – 2 nd overall	Girls O9 – 6 th overall

Top performances came from Alexandra Easton who placed 3rd in the U9 girls and Dorian Armstrong who placed 2nd in the U9 boys. Justin Collis ran with the O9 boys but is actually in the younger age group. He was our top finisher in this age group and can take much of the credit for their 4th place finish. Well done to all of our runners – they ALL ran well. With such obvious talent, we look forward to some top results in the future.

Middle School

Jesse Kirkland, Oliver Kempe, Ashley Brooks and Amy Smith took part in the Middle School Cross Country and all ran well. Ashley placed 3rd in her age group.

We had several students take part in the Front Street Mile. Well done to all of those students – especially to Ashley Brooks who won the Primary School girls race.

TAG RUGBY

We took two teams to the interschool Tag Rugby Tournament. The teams were not as well prepared this year as many of our practices and P.E. classes were either rained out or had to be held inside because of the rain. Our 'B' Team managed a fourth place finish.

Our students should be commended for the enthusiasm and house spirit that they always exhibit at these events. They really are a pleasure to organize because the students love to participate in interhouse events.

Outside of school we continue to be represented in a wide variety of activities. These include squash, sailing, running, horseback riding, cycling, triathlon, tennis, karate, gymnastics, swimming, go-carting and dance.

Well done to all of our athletes. Whether you have participated in an Interhouse event, an Interschool event, a local sporting event or an international event we are proud of all of your efforts and accomplishments!

FINAL PAGE

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people who have contributed to this Yearbook, especially Lilian Williams and Mark Beasley for their photographic expertise. Peter Le Page, Jnr. School Yearbook Coordinator.

The school would also like to thank the class mothers and all the other parents who have helped to make this another successful year for Saltus Junior School.

Three members of staff left the school at the end of this academic year:

Esther Johnson sadly left at the end of the term. Esther has been with us for three years and is leaving to stay home with her expected baby. She has contributed a great deal to the Learning Support Programme since she arrived and her innovative new ideas have been gratefully received and often implemented. We wish her and her husband Alan every happiness in the future.

Donna Mae Fletcher joined the staff three years ago, having previously taught at Bermuda High School. We wish her well in her role as a home mother. Her dedication, creativity and hard work have been an asset to the school and we shall all miss her.

Frank Allan retired this year after 15yrs at Saltus Junior School having taught for several years in the Government system. He led the Learning Support Department and was responsible for helping those students with special needs. Many of his students graduated from Saltus Grammar School and went on to study overseas at University or College. His contribution to the Junior School has been notable and his quiet and efficient running of the house system will be greatly missed. We wish him a long, happy and healthy retirement.

Welcome!

This has been a wonderful year of events and achievements for the Senior School. In music and drama, the performances of 'West Side Story' were outstanding, and many other departments added displays and exhibitions to the drama workshops and musical interludes of the Millennium Festival in January. We won the National Debating Championships, and our sports teams, hockey-players, athletes and golfers greatly distinguished themselves in their various events. Our students of French enjoyed an instructive trip to Paris, our musicians to England, and most of our S.G.Y. students to Canada to visit colleges and universities. The Saltus name has been carried far and wide! Meanwhile many events have supported a variety of charitable causes—especially the Rag Week at the end of the Spring Term which was a great success. And, alongside all the events, a wealth of strong teaching and rich learning has been taking place.

We bid farewell to an exhilarating group of S.G.Y. students whose vigour, enthusiasm and leadership have contributed so much to the Senior School this year. It is sad, too, to have to say good-bye to four members of staff: Derek and Barbara Janes, Colette Doughty, and John Gilhooly, who are returning to the U.K.; between them they have wrought creative and far-reaching developments in their respective departments. We wish all our leavers, staff and students, the very best for the future.

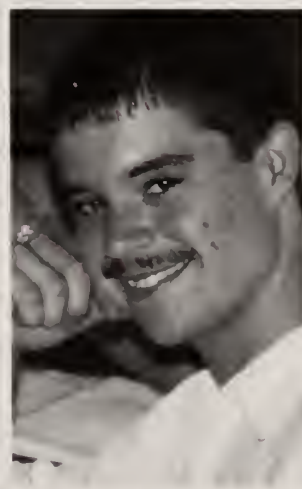

But a school is a dynamic organism, with new faces and new energy each year to replace the old. I am sure that our new students and teachers will find the Senior School as welcoming, exhilarating, and happy a place as I have found it to be this year. This yearbook, I hope, captures for you some of the high spirits that make it so enjoyable.

D u k e O f E d i n b u r g h

This has been another busy and successful year for the Saltus Duke of Edinburg Awards Scheme. Under the new direction of Mr. Stones (Duke of Edinburg Co-ordinator), and Mr. Edwards (Silver Co-ordinator), over 70 students have been fortunate to participate in the scheme, which involved many activities. These included Community Service, such as helping out at Windreach, Skills as diverse as playing the oboe and piloting a Cessna aircraft, and a variety of Sporting Activities. For many, the highlight of the Scheme were the Expeditions. Groups hiked for many miles, and camped overnight on several of Bermuda's smaller islands. A big thank you to everyone who helped to make the Scheme a great success this year!

In Memory of
Michelle Leslie Outerbridge
1982-2000

Michelle was a very special member of the Saltus in 1994, she was involved in many extracurricular activities. As an athlete, she was a swimmer, basketball player and a hockey player. She was in three dramatic productions, represented her school and her country in debate competitions, and participated at all levels of the Duke of Edinburgh award programme. She was an Argonaut for the Jason Project, a school prefect, a peer educator for the Allan Vincent Smith Foundation and volunteer at Agape House.

Michelle wrote, "The main reason I want to go to university is to find out what I want to do with the rest of my life. To find out what I am good at, to find out what I enjoy doing, and to find out who I really am ..."

Michelle was killed in a road accident days after she began classes at the University of Western Ontario. Mr. Kermode stated, after learning of the tragedy, "Michelle is remembered as a bright, intelligent young woman with many friends at the school ... Michelle had many fine qualities and will be sorely missed."

What's been happening in ICT?

We welcomed a new teacher of ICT, Mr. Thorpe, who quickly showed off his skills with some expertly rendered bevels.

The Lines Computer Centre turned red & blue (even more so than usual) with the arrival of Blueberry and Raspberry iMacs, all named after important aspects of Scottish culture.

The web-page (<http://www.saltus.bm> as if you didn't know) continued to be amazingly popular, passing its 1,000,000th hit in early 2000!

Our students continued to produce some superb work in ICT, learning skills that will be of great use in the future.

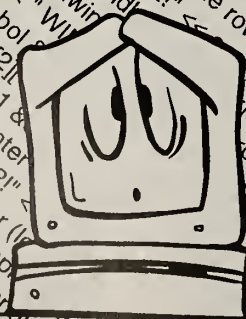

I managed to cause severe cerebral-bruising in my AP Computer Science C++ course. Bee's make honey...

On a personal note, I have enjoyed my time served at Saltus, from those early days with the unspeakably-slow telephone-wire network in Room 1 through to the current high-speed wireless mischief in the land of laptops. I hope that Saltus will continue to grow through the trials of technology, and rest assured that I will never be able to forget you all!

2000 French Trip

On the 5th of February a group of 26 students went to Paris for a 7-day educational trip. We saw all the sights including le Tour D'Eiffel, Notre Dame, le Louvre, Versailles Palace and most importantly Euro Disney. Whilst there we dined in fine French cuisine's (le McDonalds). We shopped in authentic French shops such as le Gap and le Foot Locker. We went ice skating in Euro Disney and most of us got the hang of it (but not all). We all improved our French by attempting to converse with the French people, sometimes successfully, sometimes not. All in all, the French trip was a success and we all had a great time.

Well what can I say...another year has just flown by and the department has been busy, as usual, trying to inspire! Lots of budding scientists are shown on these pages, going about their tasks with great style, of course the designer lab glasses help. Again we have had the pleasure of working with all of you and feel that as the academic year draws to a close we (both you and us) deserve a pat on the back.

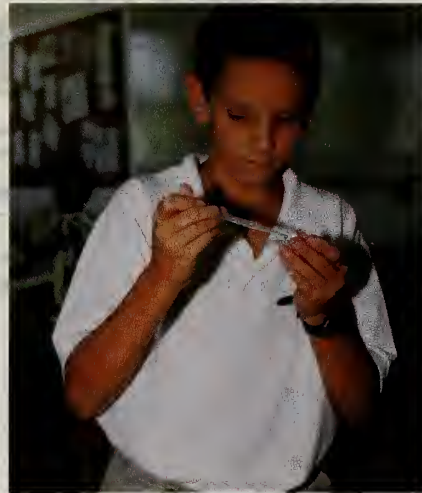

I suppose now would be a good opportunity to bid you farewell. I have had a fantastic time in Bermuda and have enjoyed working here immensely. I am both excited and sad about going, but I want to say a big thank you to Bermuda and Saltus for putting up with me. I will miss the island and all of you very much indeed, especially the S3 student who was kind enough to propose to me!

Good Bye and Good Luck from Miss D!

In Action

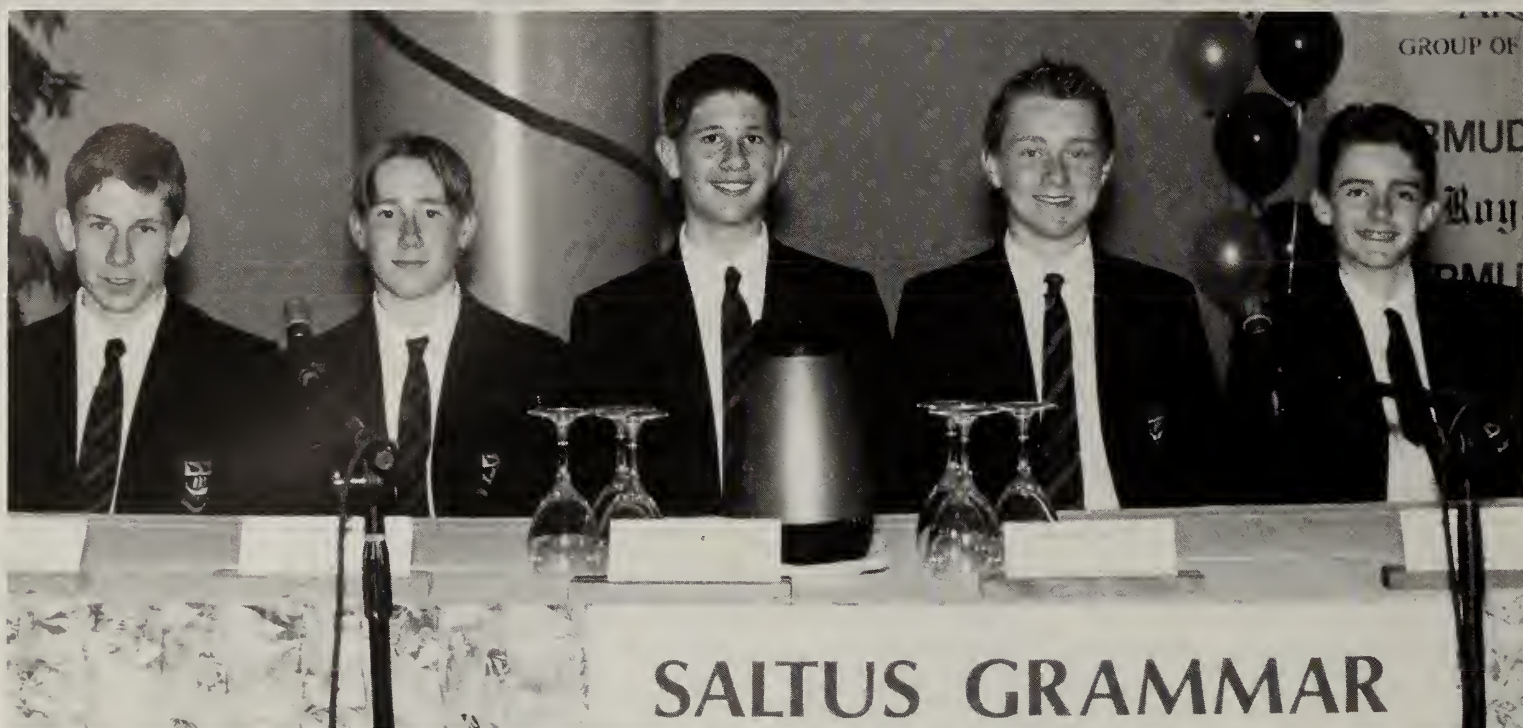

The 2000 Bermuda Inter School Quiz Team

After 6 months of study, the boys went on the television to represent Saltus. In the presence of the Premier they were tested on some of the 3000 Bermuda related facts they had memorized. We came a very close third and won $500 for the school library. As usual, we struggled with current affairs, but who was to know that WRV stands for the Windreach Recreational Village or that there are 4667 civil servants on Bermuda!

We were very proud of our teams performance and they deserved the lunch they received from Mr. Kermode as a thank you for all their hard work.

Debating

"This house welcomes the 21st century" was the hotly contested motion for this year's thoroughly enjoyable Bermuda Junior Service League debate tournament. Saltus entered two teams who were both well prepared and full of good ideas and as usual the standard of debating was very high. The Saltus 1 team emerged as eventual winners of the Senior section after a very close final. Congratulations to all who took part.

As 17 senior 4 pupils who have ran our own business 'Young Stars' from October 1999 to June 2000 we have had a very successful and profitable business experience. In October we issued 475 shares at $1 each to willing investors consisting of pupils, teachers and friends and family members. We made and sold candles, gift tags, candy and toiletry gift baskets, selling our merchandise at the Saltus Millennium festival, at the YE trade fair, and throughout the year at Saltus. Also we offered refreshments service at a Saltus Music festival and organized a Junior School Dance. We enhanced our skills in: time management; organization; communication; and teamwork. With a 94% pass rate in the Young Enterprise Exam, an award of 1st place in the Bermuda-wide YE Company Presentation Competition and a new profit of $1163.75, we have certainly enjoyed this 'learning by doing' experience. Profits were distributed back to our shareholders along with their original share capital after we had held our June Annual General Meeting. We would like to thank our shareholders, business advisers and teacher, Miss Hughes, for their help throughout the year in what was a very worthwhile extra-curricular activity.

XPLOSIONS2000 COMPANY REPORT

Our company Xplosions2000 has proven to be profitable yet not quite efficient. We combined innovation and enthusiasm from some of our members and those few members have been in a unique position to offer quality products and services to our target market. We have been able to advance our business studies skills and our communication skills. Some of the Xplosins2000 members have adopted a mature and thoughtful attitude to every aspect of business operations and they have developed a keen strategy, showing their individual strengths. I think we have learned a lot through the Young Enterprise experiences. We have learned that running a business is not as easy as it may seem.

We started our business on October 15th with 16 directors.

UK Music Tour

Thirty-three Saltus music students and six chaperones all agree on two basic points: the UK tour was a major success and the weather there is certainly different — as Mr. Rhodes termed it — gloomy, grey old England! He was concerned his gelled hair would freeze, Mr. Webster went into hibernation on the bus, whilst Mrs. Maule could be found under at least seven layers of fleece!

The group was met at Gatwick by a stereotypically portly coach driver, Martin, and a friendly tour director, Barry. Both were super throughout the week — always patient with the students and never aggravated by our constant barrage of questions.

The first stop was Windsor, where the sky was grey and a bitter cold wind was whipping 'round the desolate streets, but by the time we reached the next stop, the Tower of London, the sun was shining. We then checked in at our Hampstead accommodations and, when everyone had taken their luggage to their rooms, we boarded the coach again to sightsee — despite feeling the effects of a sleepless night on the aircraft.

The next morning we experienced London traffic as we made our way to Portsmouth, eating our packed lunch at Southsea before we visited Oaklands School in Waterlooville. Some of our students joined in a Big Band rehearsal while others practised for our performance. Later, there was a massed Wind Band rehearsal following which we were treated to an elegant tea before boarding the bus for the two-hour drive back to London.

The next day was spent in Chelmsford at an ice skating rink. All students and both Mrs. Henderson and Mr. Rhodes skated. It was pleasing to note the improvement of some of the novices as they practised during those two hours. We ate our lunch on the coach as we drove to Felsted School in Essex. It was again bitter cold when we arrived to perform for the Junior School, enjoyed tea and rehearsed for an evening programme. Some of their band members who visited Bermuda in April joined our rehearsal. As this was Mr. Rhodes' former school, he took some Saltus students on an extensive tour and there was a fine meal laid on for us before our 7:30 pm concert.

"postcard from London"

On Wednesday morning we visited the Boosey and Hawkes Instrument Factory in Edgware — an educational opportunity in itself for Bermudians. The tour ladies were fantastic and we saw flutes, trumpets, trombones, euphoniums and tubas being made. It was a noisy and fascinating morning.

Our coach drove us to Lakeside just after 1 pm and an enthusiastic group of shoppers disembarked. Amazingly, everyone returned by the 3:30 deadline, some completely overburdened with packages.

Our next stop was Havering where the borough runs an after school music programme in its Music Centre, alongside the Havering Sixth Form College, where Mrs. Maule formerly taught. Izzie, the director, organized the evening, including a radio interview for Mrs. Maule, Adrian and Kristin, and a presentation of an attractive plaque to commemorate our visit. Havering has a fabulous brass band that played several selections while we offered a segment including a rousing rendition of Yellowbird followed by the combined Saltus and Havering Wind Bands for stirring performances of Queen in Concert, Grease and My Girl.

The Havering visit marked the end of our 'work', so Thursday morning we began our sightseeing at the Science Museum followed by a tour of the Royal College of Music. There we were privileged to hear an orchestral rehearsal of a Strauss tone poem while the afternoon was spent at the Trocadero and around Oxford and Regent Streets. We later ate at the Albert Pub and saw Starlight Express.

On Friday morning we travelled to the Globe Theatre where Mrs. Hatfield made a donation to the tree planting programme in Saltus' name and received a certificate for the school. Our next stop was the Royal Festival Hall in the South Bank Centre, where one of Mrs. Maule's friends had organized a tour for us with the curator of the Gamelan orchestral instruments. Of course he took us to see the instruments and this was particularly interesting as some of our students had just finished studying Indonesian music.

There was an English mist as we walked across Waterloo Bridge on our way to Covent Garden where we took in a matinee of Buddy at the Aldwych, with our final group meal in a pub on Fleet Street. Next day, we got to the airport all accounted for and still in one piece — although it was difficult to tell under all the shopping bags — and set off for Bermuda.

MUSIC REPORT 1999/2000

Music is thriving at Saltus. Undoubtedly, the highlight this year was our week long UK Music Tour in November. The notes below indicate our other activities. It is important to remember that these activities can only be successful if we have dedicated students who commit to learning the music, attending the rehearsals and performing at the events. We appreciate the commitment of those students who are always on time and ready to assist with rehearsal set-up. They are making a fine contribution to the musical life of Saltus.

For the second consecutive year, we can boast a 100% pass result in our Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music examinations. Some of our students have worked particularly hard and achieved excellent results. Several of our students share their musical talent with music groups outside the school. (Bermuda Philharmonic, Bermuda National Youth Jazz Band). We extend a special commendation to Machel Charles who was chosen to join the Lions Club Youth Band in New York City for a musical weekend in May.

Not everyone wants to be a solo performer but we did see 24 plus solo performers on May 10th at our Interhouse Music Competition. Judges included Ruth Thomas, former Cultural Affairs Officer, Mr. Kermode and Mr. Langman. The Interhouse Music Shield was won by Butterfield. First Prize was awarded to Mark Watson, second prize to Peter Riihiluoma, third prize to Edward Rance and special Headmaster's Award to Machel Charles.
